

シーボルト邸 Siebold house ('14.0)

A photograph showing a rectangular metal plate with a regular grid of circular holes. A horizontal blue line with arrows at both ends spans the width of five holes, labeled "1mm" in blue. The grid consists of approximately 15 rows and 20 columns of holes.

キャプション MSPゴシック 7p

	キャブション MSPゴシック 7p mm	The reservation Another house of the house dolla The exchange boast highly tradit The c as a €		2mous * of the house dolla The excha boast highly tradit The c as a

平面図 Plan

topography of the Port of Nagasaki sembles an amphitheater looking out to sea. her major feature of Nagasaki are the es that extend up the slopes to the summits e city's mountains. The lights from these es give Nagasaki its renowned "million-r" nighttime scenery.

Port of Nagasaki is the focus of the city's anges with other countries. Nagasaki also ts a number of unique festivals that ight the city's food culture and local tions.

city of Nagasaki, which for years prospered port of trade with Portugal, was also the window through which Christianity first arrived in Japan.

However, in 1587, Toyotomi Hideyoshi (the 4mm daimyo who unified Japan) decreed a ban on Christianity. This resulted in an incident known as "the execution of the 26 saints". 26 Christians were rounded up in the cities of Kyoto, Osaka, and Sakai, brought to Nagasaki via an overland route in large two-wheeled wagons, and executed at Nishizaka. This marked the first significant incident of martyrdom in Japan and triggered the period of pervasive persecution and martyrdom that followed.

雲仙岳 Mt. Unzen ('14.05)

雲仙岳 Mt. Unzen ('14.05)

見出し MSゴシック 8pt 見出しの後は必ず改行する 本文（和文）MS明朝 8pt 句読点は全角（、）（。）に統一 段落頭の文字下げを行う 行間10pt 均等配置（最終行左揃）